- Fine salt — 10 g

METHOD

1. Sweat onion, fennel, leek and garlic in oil 8 min. Add tomato paste; cook 2 min.

SATURDAY · THE BUTCHER

Petit Salé aux Lentilles du Puy

Serves 6 · Prep 20 min · Cook 150 min

"Home-cured pork simmered over slate-green Puy lentils — the Auvergne's Sunday lunch; cure the pork three days ahead and the rest cooks itself."

FROM THE RECIPE NOTES

INGREDIENTS (SERVES 6)

- Pork belly, skin on — 800 g
- Pork knuckle or shoulder — 600 g
- Cure: coarse salt 60 g, sugar 20 g, thyme 4 sprigs, bay 2, juniper 6 berries
- Puy lentils — 450 g
- Smoked sausage (Morteau-style) — 1 (350 g)
- Onion, clove-studded — 1 (150 g)
- Carrots, thick rounds — 300 g
- Leek, sliced — 150 g
- Garlic — 12 g
- Bouquet garni — 1
- Black pepper — 2 g
- Dijon mustard — to serve
- Red wine vinegar — 15 ml
- Flat-leaf parsley — 10 g

METHOD

1. Rub pork pieces with the cure; refrigerate 48–72 h, turning daily. Rinse well; soak 2 h in cold water.
2. Cover pork with fresh water; simmer at 90 °C, skimming, 1.5 h.
3. Add the whole sausage; simmer 30 min more, until all meats are tender.
4. Meanwhile simmer lentils with studded onion, carrots, leek, garlic and bouquet in 1.2 L of the pork cooking liquor (taste — dilute if too salty), 25–30 min until just tender.
5. Season lentils with pepper and vinegar only (the pork brings salt); discard onion and bouquet.
6. Slice the meats thickly.
7. Serve meats over the lentils, moistened with liquor, parsley over.

PLATING & SERVICE

Big shallow bowls, Dijon on the table; a glass of young Gamay does no harm.

VARIATIONS & SWAPS

Short on time? Use bought salted pork or smoked ham hock. The lentils alone (cooked in vegetable stock) make a superb vegan main.

Allergens: celery, mustard

SUNDAY · A SLOW POT

Daube de Bœuf Provençale, Orange et Olives

Serves 6 · Prep 30 min · Cook 240 min

"The southern cousin of bourguignon — beef in red wine with orange zest, olives and herbs, no flour, just a long low braise and patience."

FROM THE RECIPE NOTES

INGREDIENTS (SERVES 6)

- Beef chuck and cheek, 6 cm pieces — 1.5 kg
- Full-bodied red wine — 750 ml
- Olive oil — 50 ml
- Onion, chunks — 250 g
- Carrots, thick slices — 300 g
- Garlic, crushed — 20 g
- Tomatoes, chopped — 300 g
- Orange zest — 3 wide strips; juice 50 ml
- Black olives, pitted — 120 g
- Anchovy fillets (secret depth) — 3 (12 g)
- Herbes de Provence — 3 g; thyme 4 sprigs; bay 2

- Fine salt — 13 g; black pepper 2 g

METHOD

1. Marinate beef overnight in wine with onion, carrot, garlic, zest, cloves and juniper.
2. Drain (keep all); dry the beef. Boil the wine 5 min, skimming.
3. Brown beef in oil in a heavy daubière or cocotte; remove. Soften the marinade vegetables 5 min.
4. Return beef; add wine, tomatoes, anchovies, orange juice, herbs and salt.
5. Seal the lid (a flour-water luting paste is traditional; foil under the lid works); braise at 140 °C for 3.5–4 h. Do not peek before 3 h.
6. Skim the fat; add olives; simmer 10 min uncovered to gloss the sauce; season.
7. Rest 20 min — or better, refrigerate overnight and reheat.

PLATING & SERVICE

Serve with macaronade (pasta tossed in the daube juices) or crushed potatoes; zest a little fresh orange over.

VARIATIONS & SWAPS

Camargue-style: use bull/beef cheeks only. Add 150 g diced pancetta with the vegetables for extra body.

THROUGH THE WEEK

Aïoli Provençal au Mortier

Serves 8 · Prep 20 min · Cook 0 min

"Garlic mayonnaise pounded in the mortar, as dense as ointment — the golden heart of the 'grand aïoli' spread of vegetables, eggs and salt cod."

FROM THE RECIPE NOTES

INGREDIENTS (SERVES 8, MAKES ~350 ML)

- Garlic cloves, germ removed — 25 g
- Fine salt — 5 g
- Egg yolks — 2 (40 g)
- Dijon mustard (optional trainer wheels) — 5 g
- Extra virgin olive oil — 150 ml
- Neutral oil — 150 ml
- Lemon juice — 20 ml
- Warm water — 10 ml
- Saffron (optional) — 0.1 g

METHOD

1. Pound garlic with salt in a mortar to an absolutely smooth pomade — 3–4 min of honest work.
2. Work in the yolks (and mustard if using) with the pestle.
3. Add the oils drop by drop at first, turning the pestle constantly; after it catches, a thin stream.
4. Blend the two oils — all extra-virgin turns bitter under the pestle.
5. Loosen midway with lemon juice and the warm water; continue to a dense, standing sauce.
6. Season; add saffron bloomed in the warm water for colour if you like.
7. Rest 30 min at room temperature before serving; use same day.

PLATING & SERVICE

Centre of a grand aïoli platter: poached salt cod, boiled potatoes, carrots, green beans, eggs, and raw fennel.

VARIATIONS & SWAPS

Rouille: add cayenne, saffron and a little cooked potato. Vegan: emulsify aquafaba (40 ml) instead of yolks — lighter but stable.

Allergens: eggs, mustard

THROUGH THE WEEK

Sauce Vierge aux Tomates et Basilic

Serves 6 · Prep 15 min · Cook 5 min

"The 'virgin' sauce — warm olive oil, raw tomato, herbs and coriander seed; the modern classic that dresses any grilled fish in ninety seconds."

FROM THE RECIPE NOTES

INGREDIENTS (SERVES 6, MAKES ~400 ML)

- Extra virgin olive oil — 150 ml
- Ripe tomatoes, peeled, deseeded, 5 mm dice — 300 g
- Shallot, fine dice — 40 g
- Coriander seeds, toasted, crushed — 3 g
- Basil, chiffonade — 12 g
- Chervil or parsley, chopped — 6 g
- Lemon juice — 25 ml
- Lemon zest — 2 g
- Black olives, slivered (optional) — 30 g
- Fine salt — 5 g
- Espelette pepper — 0.5 g

METHOD

1. Warm the olive oil with the coriander seeds to 60 °C — just hand-hot; infuse 5 min off the heat.
2. Stir in shallot; let it soften in the warmth 2 min.
3. Add tomato dice, lemon juice, zest and olives.
4. Season with salt and Espelette.
5. Fold in the herbs at the last second — heat kills them.
6. Serve warm (50 °C), never hot; the tomato must stay fresh, not stewed.

PLATING & SERVICE

Spoon generously over roasted sea bass, grilled scallops, burrata or warm vegetables.

VARIATIONS & SWAPS

Riviera version: add 15 g capers and swap lemon for orange with fennel-spiced fish. Keeps 24 h chilled — bring back to 50 °C gently.

Allergens: none

THROUGH THE WEEK

Moules Marinières, Cider & Crème Fraîche

Serves 4 · Prep 15 min · Cook 12 min

"A Norman twist on the marinière — dry cider instead of wine gives orchard acidity that flatters sweet Mediterranean mussels."

FROM THE RECIPE NOTES

INGREDIENTS (SERVES 4)

- Mussels, cleaned and debearded — 2 kg
- Dry cider — 250 ml
- Shallots, finely chopped — 100 g
- Celery, fine dice — 50 g
- Garlic, sliced — 10 g
- Unsalted butter — 50 g
- Crème fraîche — 100 g
- Flat-leaf parsley, chopped — 15 g
- Thyme — 3 sprigs
- Bay leaf — 1
- Black pepper — 1 g

METHOD

1. Discard any mussels that stay open when tapped.
2. Sweat shallots, celery and garlic in butter in a large lidded pot, 4 min, no colour.
3. Add cider, thyme and bay; boil 1 min.
4. Add mussels, cover, and steam on full heat 4–5 min, shaking twice, until all are open.
5. Lift mussels into bowls with a spider; discard any that stayed shut.
6. Whisk crème fraîche into the broth off the boil, add parsley and pepper; taste — mussel liquor rarely needs salt.
7. Pour broth over the mussels through the last 2 cm of the pot (grit settles at the bottom).

PLATING & SERVICE

Deep bowls, an empty bowl for shells, and frites or crusty bread — the broth is the point.

VARIATIONS & SWAPS

Dairy-free: finish with olive oil instead of crème fraîche. Classic: swap cider for dry white wine.

Allergens: shellfish, dairy, sulphites, celery

THROUGH THE WEEK

Omelette aux Fines Herbes, Roulée Baveuse

Serves 2 · Prep 10 min · Cook 6 min

"The rolled French omelette — pale gold outside, baveuse within, packed with the four fines herbes; the two-minute dish that exposes every chef."

FROM THE RECIPE NOTES

INGREDIENTS (SERVES 2, MAKES 2 OMELETTES)

- Eggs, very fresh — 6 (about 330 g)
- Unsalted butter — 40 g
- Chives, sliced — 8 g
- Chervil, chopped — 6 g
- Flat-leaf parsley, chopped — 6 g
- Tarragon, chopped — 4 g
- Crème fraîche (optional, for the centre) — 20 g
- Fine salt — 4 g
- White pepper — 0.5 g

METHOD

1. Beat 3 eggs per omelette with half the herbs, salt and pepper — 20 strokes, just homogeneous, never frothy.
2. Heat a 20 cm non-stick pan over medium-high; add 20 g butter; when foaming subsides but before browning, pour in the eggs.
3. Stir briskly with a fork (tines up) while shaking the pan, 30–45 sec, until softly scrambled but still glossy-wet.
4. Stop stirring; let the base set 10 sec. Spoon a line of crème fraîche down the centre if using.
5. Tilt the pan; fold the near edge over with the fork, then roll the omelette toward the far edge.
6. Turn out seam-down onto a warm plate; it should be cigar-shaped, unblemished, and baveuse when cut.
7. Repeat; brush with a butter-glossed knife and scatter remaining herbs.

PLATING & SERVICE

One omelette per person with a lemon-dressed leaf salad — serve within a minute of rolling.

VARIATIONS & SWAPS

Add 30 g Comté or sautéed mushrooms before rolling. Dairy-free: cook in olive oil, skip the crème fraîche.

Allergens: eggs, dairy

THROUGH THE WEEK

Clafoutis aux Cerises Noires

Serves 6 · Prep 15 min · Cook 40 min

"The Limousin flan-cake with unpitted black cherries — the stones perfume the batter with almond; serve barely warm, dusted, unapologetically rustic."

FROM THE RECIPE NOTES

INGREDIENTS (SERVES 6)

- Black cherries, stems off, UNPITTED — 500 g
- Eggs — 3 (165 g)
- Caster sugar — 100 g
- Plain flour — 60 g
- Whole milk — 200 ml
- Double cream — 100 ml
- Unsalted butter — 30 g (15 g for the dish)
- Vanilla pod — 1/2
- Kirsch — 20 ml
- Fine salt — 2 g
- Icing sugar — 15 g

METHOD

1. Butter a 24 cm ceramic dish; dust with a spoon of the sugar. Oven to 180 °C.
2. Whisk eggs with sugar, salt and vanilla seeds 1 min.
3. Whisk in flour until smooth, then milk, cream, kirsch and 15 g melted butter — a thin crêpe-like batter.
4. Rest the batter 20 min.
5. Arrange cherries in one snug layer; pour the batter over.
6. Bake 35–40 min until puffed, golden, and just set at the centre — a knife comes out clean but moist.
7. Cool 20 min (it will settle — normal); dust with icing sugar.

PLATING & SERVICE

Spooned warm from the dish, cream optional; warn guests about the stones — tradition insists on them.

VARIATIONS & SWAPS

Pitted cherries + 20 g ground almonds recovers the lost almond note. Apricot or plum version = flaugnarde. GF: 40 g rice flour + 20 g almond flour.
